At September 30, 2006, DURECT had cash and investments of $74.3 million, including $1.5 million in restricted investments, compared with cash and investments of $77.7 million at June 30, 2006 and $91.0 million at December 31, 2005.

"DURECT continued to make solid progress in advancing our pipeline in the third quarter, including entering one new product into Phase I clinical trials," stated James E. Brown, D.V.M., President and CEO of DURECT.

Recent Corporate Highlights

- POSIDUR(TM) Post-Operative Pain Relief Depot. During the third quarter of 2006, we continued to conduct multiple on-going Phase II clinical trials in a variety of soft-tissue and orthopedic surgeries for the purpose of selecting the optimal dose and the surgical procedures for pivotal Phase III trials. Pending the successful completion of these Phase II trials and approval of regulatory authorities, we will continue into the Phase III program, which we anticipate will occur in 2007.
- Remoxy. Phase III clinical trials, conducted according to a Special Protocol Assessment, remain on-going for this abuse-resistant, long-acting, oral pain medication. According to a recent press release by Pain Therapeutics, they believe that they remain on track to announce results of a Phase III trial with Remoxy in the first half of 2007, followed by an NDA filing for this drug candidate three quarters after data release.
- 2nd ORADUR-based Opioid. In August, our collaborators, Pain Therapeutics and King Pharmaceuticals, announced the initiation of a Phase I clinical trial for a new ORADUR-based opioid drug candidate. This new drug candidate is the second ORADUR-based opioid drug to undergo clinical testing. King Pharmaceuticals is the company that will be commercializing the drug candidate, if approved. Pain Therapeutics, our licensee, has sublicensed rights to the drug candidate and other ORADUR-based products incorporating oxycodone and three other opioid compounds to King Pharmaceuticals. The active pharmaceutical ingredient in the new ORADUR-based opioid drug candidate has not been disclosed.

- TRANSDUR Sufentanil Patch. During the third quarter, our main activity under this program involved supply of product for on-going clinical and non-clinical studies conducted by Endo Pharmaceuticals. In addition, we continued our technology transfer to Endo's contract transdermal patch manufacturer in order to produce additional Phase II supplies, Phase III supplies and then commercial supplies.
- Memryte(TM) Program. Our collaborator, Voyager Pharmaceutical, recently informed DURECT that Voyager is ending its Phase III clinical trials for Memryte(TM) for the treatment of Alzheimer's Disease in order to get an early look at potential efficacy.
- Management Addition. Matthew J. Hogan has joined us as Chief Financial Officer, bringing with him over 10 years of in-depth knowledge regarding corporate financial transactions as a former investment banker for Merrill Lynch and over 10 years of experience as a chief financial officer of several publicly traded companies, including experience managing commercial product sales.
